

About User:

Sanjay Raghav is a consultant at the Bluebells School international.

He is an M.A in Education and MSc in Mathematics Education. He has published papers in NCERT on gaps in teaching learning Numeracy in the early years. A teacher trainer and consultant with organisations including LLF, Ceced, Mothers International . Sanjay has designed and will be teaching a course for Middle and secondary teachers on Algebra and Geometry at Ambedkar University Delhi.

About Arc Math:

Arc Math is a dedicated organisation working in the field of training and mentoring Math educators. Our team has been involved with many private schools, NGOs, Government schools and Organisations including CECED, UNICEF and MHRD in consulting work. We have a learning center in Delhi and constantly train children and teachers in mathematics. We stood among the top 10 percent prestigious institute by Mathematical Science Foundation, Delhi. Our vision is to develop high quality standards in Math Education and develop an authentic and stimulating culture of learning.